

Flexibly Protect Open Spaces

Flexible, Aesthetic Security for Indoor Spaces

KEEPING YOUR BUSINESS SAFE FROM FORCED ENTRY AND OTHER MODERN THREATS

The retail industry is undergoing a dramatic transformation, marked by the rise of open-concept architecture and the emergence of innovative retail and restaurant spaces subdividing larger buildings such as airports. This trend creates more welcoming environments that foster customer engagement and enhance the overall shopping experience. However, these open concept designs also present unique physical security challenges.

There is a growing need for flexible and adaptable security solutions that can easily integrate into modern architectural designs. QMi Side-Folding Grilles offer a compelling solution.

QMi grilles can be seamlessly incorporated into open-concept spaces, providing reliable medium-security protection without compromising the desired aesthetic. They can also be customized to complement any architectural genre. Their user-friendly design makes it easy to operate, and when not in use, they can be discreetly hidden away.

Architects and operators should consider integrating the versatile, flexible side-folding solutions from QMi into their next demanding project.

Case Study: Secure Banking

OVERVIEW

An international bank, undergoing a major branch remodel, sought a security solution for its ATM vestibule that would not compromise its sleek, modern aesthetic. The bank required a product that offered high visibility, ease of use for store personnel, and robust protection against vandalism and theft.

QMi's Performance Line Side-Folding Grille in a Q-Clear style was selected to secure the ATM vestibule. The UV coated polycarbonate panels provided exceptional clarity, ensuring unobstructed views of the ATM area. The material's strength and durability made it highly resistant to vandalism, reducing the risk of damage and costly repairs.

The grille folded discreetly into a tailored pocket near the vestibule when not in use, allowing store personnel to easily open and close the branch each day. The product's curved track created a secure after-hours area for customers while maintaining the open entrance architectural design at the branch.

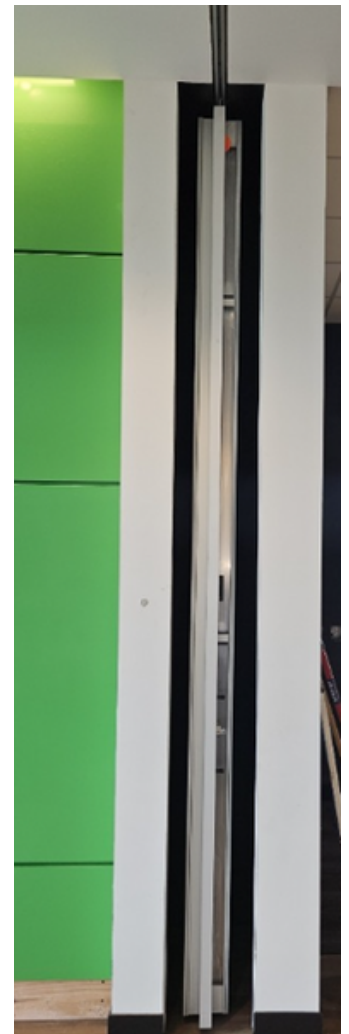

By implementing the Q-Clear, the bank achieved their goal of balancing security with a welcoming and transparent environment for customers.

In-process installation of QMi Q-Clear Side-Folding Grille shipped with protective film over poly panels.

QMi worked with architects on track curves and pocket details.
